Pro Bono Publico!

IF YOU LOVE YOUR COUNTRY, encourage Home Productions. Why will you send abroad for wretchedly spurious articles, when you can have the good and true and beautiful of Oregon material and Oregon workmanship close at your very doors!

Why impoverish your country and its mechanics by the calculations of Prejudice, or by parsimonious misdirection?

HORATIO COOKE & CO.,
Corner of Alder and Second sts., Portland,

Have now on hand and are steadily constantly increasing a Large Stock of Household Furniture
of Oregon Material and Oregon Workmanship.

The following articles will be found to be part of their stock:
BEDSTEADS, CHAIRS, BUREAUS,

WRITING DESKS,
LADIES' WORK STANDS,
WASH STANDS,
CHESS TABLES,
ROCKING CHAIRS,
ARM CHAIRS, CRADLES,
CRIBS, SAFES,
SASH AND DOORS.

Other articles, too numerous to mention, either on hand or made to order.

The superscribers would modestly infer to the most gracious public of the State of Oregon that they would gladly exchange any or all of the above articles for "READY MONEY," or any other article of commerce that will by the conveyance give pleasurable sensations to the high contracting parties.

The life-spring of trade, "READY CASH,"
No matter in which way we view it,
Enables no coward to dash,
And therefore we mean to stick to it.

Billiard and Ten Pin Balls turned to the most exact spherical conformation.

Various kinds of turning executed with the beauty of true taste, and to the truth of true order.

Lots fenced in with strength and beauty.

Portable shelving for stores, strong and handsome. Suitable alike for walls or central range; can be taken away at any time without injury or disturbance to the Store. 12

MONDAY MORNING JULY 27 1863

By Telegraph

The dispatches received yesterday and Saturday, which we publish this morning, are continued proofs of the success of the Union cause against secession

The price of gold—a pretty sure indication of public sentiment and confidence—has gone down lower than it has been for more than a year, and we rejoice that all that we hear is full of bright hope for the country

California Stage Company and Overland Mail.

We and our readers have become so accustomed to the daily mail—considering it now a fixed and permanent institution—that it may be well briefly to notice the somewhat heavy burdens borne by the Stage Company for the benefit of the people of Oregon and the Northern Territories, with but, as it seems to us, a corresponding compensation

The route from Portland to Sacramento is not a regular one, according to the usages of the Post Office Department but was let by special contract, commencing in September, 1860, for four years, at ninety thousand dollars per annum Under this, the Stage Company for nearly three years, has done its duty with astonishing promptness, keeping ahead even of the schedule time allowed—which from April to December—eight months—is seven days, and during the remainder of the year is twelve days.

The money due is paid in currency, of course, thereby causing a loss of from twenty to thirty per cent during the last year, and as the Company is compelled to pay the wages of all its employees, and the cost of every thing it purchases, in coin, it will be readily seen that the sacrifice is very serious Even when the contract price is paid in coin, we doubt if the Company receives more than it expends, as the country through which the route passes is so sparsely settled that travel cannot be expected to pay, except, perhaps, during a very few weeks in the year, anything toward the enormous expenses of keeping up such a line of coaches

It is also to be remembered that the Company distributes $10 000 in coin every month, in wages payment for rents and provender, and thus really in its disbursements benefits our community more than its stockholders Under those circumstances, we think all will admit that the Company have a heavy load to carry, especially, when the Postmasters along the line are instructed to keep all coin which comes into their hands, subject to special order of the Department—as will be seen by the instructions—and we are informed that no collections are made in currency!

We hope that our Senators Representative and the Delegates from the Territories interested in the contract, will be careful and anxious to protect the interests of the Company, which has become a matter of importance and personal concern to us all, It seems to us that they should insist upon a special act for the payment in coin or its equivalent, of the amount due to the Company, so that we shall be sure of responsible and faithful service on the route, and also cause the Overland Mail route to be made a regular one, so that it can be let as such We trust that they will not fail to attend to this, as we fear there is danger lest we shall be thrown back, as to mail facilities, where we were three years ago and besides the annoyance and delays which then harassed the community, we shall in the State lose the disbursement and expenditure of nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars every year, which now go to those who, in the Willamette valley, are interested in the labor and success of the Company

We copy the letter which compels the Postmasters to retain coin

POST OFFICE DEP'T, FINANCE OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, June 12th, 1863,

Sir—The instructions contained in the circular issued by this Department on the 1st of April, 1863 are, by direction of the Postmaster General, so far modified that postmasters at points on the Pacific slope of the United States, will be required to report to the Third Assistant Postmaster General the whole amount of coin collected for postage due on letters received from certain foreign countries and to retain the same subject to special draft and also report and return, in like manner, any balance which may remain, of the coin received in the ordinary course of business, after the payment therewith of clerk hire and other incidental expenses

I am respectfully, &c
A. P. ZEVELY,
Third Ass't P M General

The steamer Constitution arrived at San Francisco on the 18th of July Among the list of passengers we observe the name of Bishop Janes, who comes to the Pacific coast, to preside at the Conferences of the Methodist Church

ARBITRARY ARRESTS—General Grant has reduced himself in the estimation of the Copperheads as low as Burnside by the arbitrary arrest of Pemberton and 27 000 other Democrats at Vicksburg, The Constitution gives the right to every citizen to bear arms Grant violated his plain constitutional privilege by depriving a whole army of Democrats of all their arms The Democracy of the free States won't stand this unconstitutional way of abridging the liberties of the people—see if they do—Nevada Transcript

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to July 18th.

The New York Riot Quelled.

Lee Retreats toward Richmond. --He will not make a Stand north of the Rappahannock.

The Great Battle commenced at Charleston.

The City Reported Evacuated and Burned

Official Report of the Attack on Morris Island.

Morgan's Forces Scattered--1000 Prisoners taken--150 Drowned in the Ohio in attempting to cross.

Johnson driven into Jackson, Miss., and the City Shelled by the Federals.

Yazoo City Taken.

NEW YORK, July 16—The disturbances in this city have been quieted Railroad tracks have been relaid, telegraph lines repaired and business has been resumed A man named Andrews supposed to be a leader of the villains, has been arrested and sent to Fort Lafayette He is from Virginia In several of the small towns in the suburbs of the city, mobs have been proven ed from doing unitigated acts of violence by the Catholic priests Col Winslow, with 500 men and two pieces of artillery, charged the mob in First avenue last night The mob took refuge in houses and from the roofs hurled stones on the soldiers A howitzer was trained on the mob and ten rounds of canister poured into them mowing them down frightfully Probably the last fight occurred last night near 21st street where a military force has been sent to drive away the scoundrels who were plundering The mob concentrated strongly The 7th Regiment and 700 volunteers were sent against them. Eleven rioters were killed, eighteen wounded, and thirty five taken prisoner.

WASHINGTON, July 16—The draft in New York is only temporarily suspended and will probably be resumed as soon as order is restored

CHICAGO July 17—A special dated Berlin, Md, says the army of the Potomac is in that vicinity. It is probable that several days will be employed in recruiting men and horses, as both have suffered considerably in long marches

Lee is reported to be marching rapidly to Culpepper, and will probably not halt until beyond the Rappahannock

NEW YORK, July 17th—Washington dispatches dated last night says that Ashby's Gap was held by 300 or 400 rebels They had an encounter with our troops, and were dispersed

Reports say the rebel army is massed between Williamsport and Martinsburg, on the main road to Winchester

Their trains are moving down the valley

A Washington special says that five thousand wounded Union soldiers and six thousand rebel wounded are being removed from Gettysburg to the Northern hospitals

Released officers say that Lee will not make another stand this side of Richmond

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE SOUTH, MORRIS ISLAND, July 12—To Gen Halleck—I have the honor to report that at 5 o'clock on the morning of the 10th I made an attack on the enemy's fortifications on the south end of the Island After three hours engagement I captured all their strongholds on that part of the Island, and pushed forward my infantry within six hundred yards of Fort Wagoner. We now hold all the Island except an area on the north side, which includes Fort Wagner and the Cummings Point battery At daybreak on the 11th an attempt was made to carry Fort Wagoner by assault which was gained, but the supporters recoiled under the fire which they were subjected to and could not be got up Our loss in both actions are about one hundred and fifty killed wounded and missing. The enemy's loss is about two hundred (Signed) Q A GILLMORE, General Commanding

CINCINNATI, July 18—The Union troops encountered Morgan's force in Jackson near the Ohio, this afternoon The latter retreated with a loss of four killed The roads are blocked up with trees to delay his progress

CHICAGO, July 18—A letter in the Boston Journal dated "Off Charleston, 10th," says the great final attack was assigned for Tuesday 14th, and added that everything was working well

NEW YORK, July 18th—The mayor issued a proclamation this afternoon, announcing the suppression of the riot, but recommending citizens to arm themselves to protect property Thirty more rioters were killed last night

Gen Wool has been relieved from command and General Cassidy been appointed in his place

CHICAGO, July 18—From rebel sources we have reports of skirmishing between the Federal army and the rebels under Johnson, a short distance from Jackson, Miss, Later reports say the Federals are shelling the city, and had killed several soldiers and citizens

Col Hatch's second cavalry, pursuing the rebel bands north of the Memphis and Charleston roads, encountered a rebel force 2,000 strong, under Forrest, They crossed Deer creek near Jackson, Tennessee Hatch gained possession of the bridge after a severe fight and charged on the rebels, driving them through Jackson, and taking possession of the place. Our loss is twelve killed and wounded

PHILADELPHIA July 20—Charleston is reported to be evacuated and burned, though the report is not credited

WASHINGTON July 18—A letter from the Headquarters Army of the Potomac says that definite information of Lee's whereabouts can not be obtained

Officers just from Washington state that General Gregg crossed Falling Waters, and was cut off for six hours, but by gallant charges got clear and captured a large number of prisoners

CINCINNATI, July 19—Morgan's forces were at Chester last night and this morning, broken up and scattered One party of 150 attempted to cross the river at Buffington, when they were attacked by gun boats and all drowned

Another party of 500 under Dick Morgan were captured by Gen Hobson Still another party of 300 were captured near Shackelford

We have taken one thousand prisoners Our loss does not exceed ten killed and fifteen wounded

Second Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20th—The Enquirer has dispatches dated Hagerstown, July 19th, stating that the rear guard of Lee's army left Martinsburg on Saturday Our whole force is across the river The Potomac is falling Lee's army is retreating by the Strasburg and Stanton road, and not by Culpepper

CINCINNATI, July 20—Our forces are continually capturing Morgan's men Basil Buck was captured this morning Over 1 300 prisoners have already been taken

NEW YORK, July 21—Sterling 128@129, Gold 125@13

The North .... Fortress Monroe letter, dated the 18th says returned prisoners from Richmond do not think that any of Bragg's force had reached there Gen D H Hill is in command of troops in Richmond

Gen Foster's headquarters will be at Fortress Monroe His operations will be confined to North Carolina and Virginia

Richmond papers of the 11th report that the Federals were landing at Brandon, on James river, doubtless, it is thought, to make a raid on the Weldon and Petersburg road Brandon is 40 miles from Petersburg

CHICAGO, July 21—The Richmond Enquirer of the 15th contains Jeff Davis' proclamation calling out under the conscription all whites between the ages of 18 and 45 to serve three years under penalty of being ..... in case of disobedience .... They are offered the privilege of joining volunteer organizations before enrollment

CINCINNATI July 21—The following was received at headquarters last night We chased John Morgan and his command over fifty miles to day, after heavy skirmishing for six or seven miles between the 45th Ohio, which was in advance. We succeeded in bringing the enemy to a stand about 3 o'clock, when a fight ensued, lasting one hour when the rebels fled taking refuge upon a high bluff I sent a flag demanding immediate surrender of Morgan's command—forty minutes were given for consideration during which time all except Morgan who escaped his command, taking with him a small squad, surrendered The number of killed and wounded was considerable The number of prisoners is 1 500 including a large number of Colonels Majors and Captains, I think we will capture Morgan to morrow.

(Signed) SHACKLEFORD, Brigadier General

Morgan's artillery and about 2 000 prisoners, including Basil Buck are expected to arrive here to-day After being driven back from the river on Sunday a detachment moved up the river towards Bellville and compelled citizens to furnish flat boats by which 300 escaped to the Virginia shore just as the gunboats appeared the remainder on the Ohio shore were attacked by the cavalry .... and scattered .... more will escape

NEW YORK July 20th—Late southern papers have the following

JACKSON, Miss, July 15—Pemberton and staff arrived here last night. The enemy have been shelling all the evening

JACKSON Miss July 16—The enemy made a heavy attack on our right and center but were repulsed The enemy's reinforcements have been pushed on our right to cross Pearl river and flank our position A block of the city was destroyed by the enemy's shell. On Sunday they were repulsed with the loss of 1,000 men

CAIRO, July 21—Yazoo city which has been occupied by rebels, was captured by the Union forces under Herron, July 15th, two hundred and fifty prisoners taken The gunboat De Kalb which accompanied the expedition was blown up by torpedoes Three steamers were burned,

Gen Lauman, with Sherman's advance is reported to have made a premature attack on Jackson, Mississippi, on the 13th, and to have been repulsed with a loss of 300 men The news in regard to Sherman's campaign against Johnson is very meagre Transports convoyed by gunboats had gone up Red river—object unknown

CHICAGO, July 22—By direction of the President the following officers are retired from the actual service Maj Gen Wool, Brig Gen Harney, Brevet Gen Harvey Brown, Cols Justin Dimick, Chas S Merchant, and Lieut Col, Burk

NEW YORK July 22—The Herald's dispatch from Washington says all efforts to induce the Government to suspend the draft in New York are unavailing The conduct of the rioters there renders it imperatively necessary that the draft be enforced

MEMPHIS, July 20—Vicksburg dates to the 18th, Gen Sherman ordered a charge on the rebel works at Jackson, on the 17th but the rebels had abandoned their position Only a few fragments were found, and but few guns and little ammunition A portion of Sherman's army now occupy Jackson at which is his headquarters, The remainder is now on its way to Vicksburg

Johnson's army on its retreat was compelled to swim Pearl river

Natchez was occupied by the Federals under Ransom on the 13th After his arrival he crossed the Mississippi and captured a rebel battery of nine guns He then marched into the country and captured 247 boxes of ammunition and nine more guns At Natchez he found 5,000 head of cattle and 400 hogs heads of sugar which were taken possession of in the name of the United States

FORTRESS MONROE, July 21—The gunboat Alabama, from Charleston, 17th, reports a battle commencing that day by sea and land She brings no particulars,

NEW YORK July 21st—Gold opened this morning at 127 with sales at 128@129

SAN FRANCISCO July 22—Private dispatch received to day from New York, says gold is quoted this morning at 128 Legal Tenders 77@78

NEW YORK, July 22—During a gale yesterday a wall of the 18th Precinct station house in 22d street fell crushing a number of women and children Thus far 11 bodies have been removed—it is not know how many remain The building was destroyed last week by the mob The ruins at the time of the fall was full of women and children hunting for coal and wood

ARCHBISHOP HUGHES ON PEACE—At the dedication of St Teresa's Church New York, on last Sunday, Archbishop Hughes preached the sermon In the course of his remarks he thus alluded to the national crisis

We might pray to God by some means that it is impossible for man .... unhappy affairs .... effusion of .... is a legitimate prayer Though it may .... say that even in this case there would be a prayer on both sides of the line—one praying against the other We can only hope that out of His mercy for both sides of the line for the whole country, He, in His all wise and all powerful providence will bring about the peace and prosperity of the people. These thoughts have just entered my mind on the present occasion and I hope that in all our endeavors we will not forget our devotions at the altar—praying, I will not say for peace which appears at this moment ridiculous, since there is only one side to give peace and the other won't have it We may pray the Almighty to bring matters to a conclusion One side can make war, but it requires two to make peace and it appears there is only one side now that wants it We had peace once They did not preserve peace. Now it is one party that is for peace. The other scorns it In that state of the case what prospect is there for peace?

THE HEAT—Yesterday the weather exhausted all the adjectives, and left us without words to do it justice Thermometers in the shade went up to 103, and in the sun to 148.

SHOOTING AFFRAY—Our readers will remember the paragraph we published on Saturday morning concerning the despoiling of Jacob Williams, a private watchman of his hat, watch and club, while asleep on his beat It appears that Williams had a habit of falling asleep while on duty, and that Charles Lawrence, a deputy marshal on the same beat, meeting him on First street, ridiculed him on finding him asleep the night previous Williams denied the charge, and Lawrence then told him that he could prove it by other watchmen Williams told Lawrence that this was a falsehood, and upon Lawrence returning him the lie direct, Williams drew a revolver and fired at him, but without effect He would have fired again had not the bystanders prevented him Lawrence then arrested Williams, and lodged him in jail The complaint was filed before the Recorder, and after a hearing of the evidence Williams was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear in the Circuit Court Having failed to procure the necessary bonds, he was committed to jail to await his trial

ACCIDENT—Yesterday evening an accident occurred on the Portland and Milwaukie road It appears that Mr Simon (of the firm of Meerholdt & Simon) and three ladies were returning to this city from Milwaukie in a buggy, and Mr. Sellers and wife and child were returning to the city at the same time On arriving at the saw mill bridge, they attempted to cross it together, but coming in collision, they crowded each other off the bridge Both, horses, buggies and occupants were precipitated a distance of over 20 feet below, but, strange to say, beyond a few bruises no one was seriously injured This was, indeed, a miraculous escape

DEPARTURE—The steamship Brother Jonathan, Samuel J DeWolf, commander, left for San Francisco direct on Saturday evening, at 10 o'clock She had a large number of passengers

EXPORTED.—We understand that Messrs M Hesselberg & Co forwarded to San Francisco, per Saturday's steamship, over 600 lbs of wool and 200 dry hides We are pleased to say that exports from Portland in the above articles are rapidly increasing.

THEATER—On Saturday evening we witnessed the performance of the drama of the "Rag Picker of Paris" at the Willamette Theater, and are gratified to say that the rendering of this popular piece appeared to give universal satisfaction The leading characters were, as usual, well sustained by Miss Mitchell and Mr. Waldron. The former, in the character of "Marie," performed with great spirit, and the scene in which she persuaded "Father Jean" to retain the child was much and deservedly applauded Waldron's "Father Jean" was well received and excellently personated Indeed, the youthful and active manager was no longer to be recognized in the gray-haired, yet hale and vigorous old "Rag Picker of Paris" The concluding burlesque of "The Door-keeper" was indeed an amusing performance, and the excellent acting of Mr Irwin in the character of "Slim Jim from the Hook" elicited frequent applause and many bursts of laughter Owing to the great preparations necessary to the production of the powerful drama of "Fraud and its Victims, or the Poor of London," which requires new scenic displays, new properties, &c, Mr Waldron has concluded to postpone his complimentary benefit until Thursday next The "Rag Picker of Paris" will be played on Tuesday

TALK OF THE PICKETS BEFORE VICKSBURG We have all read a great deal of "table talk," and have found some of it very spicy and amusing, but doubt whether any would prefer it, refined as it is, to some of the "picket talk" before Vicksburg, while that place was besieged Our lines were within a few hundred yards of those of the rebels, and as a ravine intervened, it was necessary to throw out pickets on the side of each hill, to prevent the possibility of surprise. By mutual consent neither side would fire on the other's guards, and as they could not fire leaden ones they amuse themselves by shooting pithy wordy bullets at each other With the two as an audience, they would keep up the noisy battle the whole night through. The Indianapolis Journal gives the following specimens

Federal picket—"I say, Secesh, have you anything to eat over there?"

Secesh—"Plenty"

Federal—"What's the use of lying now, come over and get a cup of coffee"

Secesh—"Confound you! come over and get Vicksburg!"

Federal found that a stumper

Another

Secesh—"Hello, Yanks, why don't you make another charge on us?"

Federal—"It's against our principles to charge on prisoners!"

An Irishman being on duty the other night was taunted by the rebels about the non explosion of our shells, when a shell from the Sixteenth Ohio Battery burst immediately over the loquacious Secesh

"Blast yo," cried the Irishman "stick that in yer knapsack and stop yer jaw"

To this elegant speech no answer was returned

Quite an excitement was raised a few nights since by a deep voiced private in our rifle pits calling out as follows

"Attention, battalion! Order arms Fix bayonet! Shoulder arms! Charge bayonets! Forward, double quick!" Just at this juncture an entire volley of musketry from the rebels greeted our pits It was dark, and they thought a charge was being made as soon as the report of the discharge had died away our hero cried out, as though he was commanding a regiment

"Why are you wavering there? Forward! I say, forward!"

Another volley came rattling over their heads, when, having carried the joke far enough, the boys fell to shooting at the excited rebels, and ceased only when the pickets were put out ion Sales.

The Dutch Merchants

On the evening of the 20th of January, 1795, the city of Amsterdam was thrown into an unusual state of bustle and confusion by the entrance of the French army under Pichegru. While the troops with stacked arms awaited their billets and rations, the citizens hastened to illuminate in honor of their arrival and in spite of the piercing cold, thronged to welcome the heroes.

Amid the general rejoicings one house alone remained with closed doors and darkened windows. It was the dwelling of the wealthy merchant, Werden, who wholly occupied in business cared little for politics, still less for the arrival of the French and was far too careful of his money to waste it like his neighbors in illuminations.

Wrapped in his fur dressing-gown, a sealskin cap drawn closely over the few gray hairs time had left upon his head, he had wheeled his easy chair close to the chimney, and he rubbed his hands over the bright coal fire, seeming lost in reverie, from which neither the beer can nor the long clay pipe on the table at his side had power to rouse him.

All at once the silence was interrupted by a violent ring at the house bell. The old man started, and turning to a stout red cheeked servant, who seated at a respectful distance, was occupying herself in knitting a stocking.

'See who it is, Jacqueline,' said he, 'that comes to disturb us at this unreasonable hour.' In a few minutes a tall young man entered, and throwing off his cloak saluted the old man as father.

'Ha! is it you, Wilhelm? I did not expect you back so soon.'

'I have just returned from Broeck,' replied the other, 'and should have arrived long ago, had not the road been so incumbered with troops and idlers.'

'Have you seen Van Elberg?'

'Yes,' answered the young man, taking his seat by the fire, 'and he consents to my union with his daughter, but refuses to give more than 4000 ducats for her dowry.'

'Then he may keep both ducats and daughter,' said the merchant angrily.

'But consider, father—'

'Consider what?' interrupted Werden. 'There's nothing to consider. I know that at your age love outweighs gold, but time will teach you that when poverty comes in at the door, love soon flies through the window.'

'Yet, father,' argued the young man, 'Van Elberg is one of the richest men in the country, and sooner or later his daughter must have his fortune.'

'Tut, tut,' said Werden. 'Van Elberg knows well what he is about, but cunning as he is, he shall not put a bad bargain upon me. As for you, Wilhelm, I have promised to give you up my business and now recommend your taking a word of advice with it, never give more than you receive, and always consider your transactions [illegible] on it, that it is the only way to prosper in business as well as love, and now we will drop the subject.'

The young man knew his father's humor too well to press the matter further, at least at that moment.

As he sat brooding over his disappointment the bell rang and the tread of a horse's feet was heard in the court yard while the watch dog commenced a furious barking.

'It is certainly a stranger this time,' said Mynheer Werden, 'there's no mistake in the dog's bark.'

He was interrupted by the servant bringing in a package.

'Commissariat department!' said her master with no little surprise, as he opened it, but an expression of uneasiness which had at first slightly contracted his features changed into one of pleasure as he read on.

'An order to deliver four hundred thousand herring for the use of the French army,' he continued, 'a very acceptable commission. Wilhelm! you shall marry Van Elberg's daughter, and he shall give her a handsome dowry in spite of himself.'

'How say you, my dear father?' replied the son, unable to believe his senses at this unexpected transition.

'Leave all to me, Wilhelm,' said Werden. 'Order our horses to be saddled at daybreak, and mind that I am called in time, for we must be at Broeck before 12 o'clock, and now, good night.'

The rising sun saw our travelers on the road to that celebrated village, where cleanliness is carried to such an extent, that before entering the streets both father and son, in compliance with an invariable custom, were obliged to dismount and leave their horses in care of a servant. At the door of Van Elberg's house, they were required to do what a few years later neither Napoleon nor the Emperor Alexander were exempted from, taking off their boots and replacing them with slippers before they were allowed to enter the room where he sat with his daughter Clotilde.

'Good morning, Mynheer Werden,' said he, shaking his friend warmly by the hand. 'Have you been frightened out of your good city by the French, that you honor me so early with a friendly visit?'

'Not at all, Van Elberg,' said the other, 'I care nothing about the French, and as I never meddle with politics, it is quite immaterial to me who governs our town. But I came to make you a proposal. I have undertaken to furnish the commissariat four hundred thousand herring on this day month, and I wish to know if it would be convenient for you to procure them for me in three weeks.'

'At what price?' asked his friend.

'Ten guilders per thousand.'

'Ten guilders—you shall have them.'

'Draw out the contract then,' said Werden, 'and when it is signed I shall be happy to partake of your hospitality, for my ride has given me an appetite.' Then turning to Clotilde he continued, 'I have come to arrange another matter, too, which we can discuss after dinner.'

It was in vain that, during the evening Werden tried every way to change his friend's resolution respecting his daughter's fortune.

After a long discussion he was obliged to give up the point, and the marriage was at length fixed to take place the following week.

Next day when Wilhelm and his father returned home, the former could not refrain from expressing some curiosity concerning the cause of the sudden change in his prospects.

'What do you mean?' asked his father.

'Have you not given up the point about his daughter's fortune?'

'I should have thought you knew me better,' replied Werden, looking slyly at his son. 'But no matter—it is sufficient that you marry the girl you like.'

Once more at home the merchant shut himself in his office until evening, when he appeared with a package of letters, which were immediately sent by post.

On the day appointed for the marriage Wilhelm and his father arrived at Broeck, where they found a large party of friends and relations assembled to meet them. Van Elberg welcomed them with cordiality, but there was an expression of care and embarrassment on his face that at first made the bridegroom fear fresh obstacles to his happiness. The elder Werden, however, in no way shared his son's anxiety, for he could give a tolerable good guess at the cause of his host's uneasiness.

'Mynheer Van Elberg,' he exclaimed, 'what can be the matter? Are you unwell?'

'No, my dear friend,' replied the other, 'not ill, but in the most unpleasant dilemma possible. I would wish to speak to you immediately in private.'

'Is it anything respecting the marriage?' asked Werden. 'If you wish to be off your word, there is still time.'

'Not for the world.'

'In that case we will proceed to the church at once. You know that I like to do things regularly, and as I came here to see my son married, we will finish that business first, and then I will be happy to hear what you have to say.'

There was no remedy, and it was not until after the happy couple had been made man and wife that Van Elberg could succeed in catching his friend alone.

'I am bound to deliver you four hundred thousand herring in fourteen days,' said he, 'and yet I cannot get a single fish at any price.'

Werden could not restrain his laughter. 'I dare say not,' he replied, 'I bought them up long ago.'

'In that case, of course, the contract is at an end,' said Van Elbert, looking doubtfully at his friend.

'By no means, or at least on certain conditions. We have this day united our children, Van Elberg, and shall leave them a fortune when we die. But as regards the present, matters are less fairly arranged. My son receives a capital business, while you only gave your daughter four thousand ducats. Now as I did not like to make them unhappy by refusing my consent to their marriage, I thought you and I would settle the matter in another way. You are to deliver four hundred thousand herring at four guilders per thousand, or I do not part with a single tail. The difference is sixteen thousand guilders which I intended to pay my son as his wife's just dowry.'

Van Elberg looked rather foolish during this explanation, but at the end regained his self possession and even smiled as he said, clapping him on the shoulder, 'You have outwitted me, Mynheer Werden, and I must pay the penalty, so say no more about it. And now let us join our friends.'

Eight days afterward Van Elberg went to visit his daughter at Amsterdam, and in his turn found Werden in the greatest perplexity.

'You are the very person I wanted,' said he, seizing his hand, 'unless you can assist me I am a ruined man. The herrings are all ready, but high or low not a barrel is to be found.'

Van Elberg's little gray eyes twinkled cunningly. 'Every man for himself, Werden—you bought the fish and I bought the barrels. But as an old friend I won't take the advantage of you, and you shall have as many as you want for exactly sixteen thousand guilders above the cost.'

Werden looked rather blank, but did his best to conceal his vexation. 'The trick is not a bad one,' said he with a forced smile, 'but you must confess that I taught it you.'

'Ay, ay,' returned the other, 'you are all clever fellows at Amsterdam, but we are not all fools at Broeck.'

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA, May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,

ED W PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D C, 7 Feb, 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO BALL, M D, Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV CO., MICH., Nov 15, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO J GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J V HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO, N Y, Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes of the Methodist Epis. Ch.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilised country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
